Alma Mater

*On the city's western border, reared against the sky,
Proudly stands our Alma Mater as the years roll by.
Forward! ever be thy watchword, conquer and prevail.
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater, Vanderbilt, All Hail!*

*Cherished by thy sons and daughters, memories sweet shall throng
'Round our hearts, O Alma Mater, as we sing our song.
Forward! ever be thy watchword, conquer and prevail.
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater, Vanderbilt, All Hail!*

—ROBERT F. VAUGHAN, 1907

The Symbols and Regalia

The visual symbols of Vanderbilt University communicate our rich history and our vibrant future. The oak tree is a traditional symbol for education as well as for strength and longevity. The stylized oak leaf and acorn in the Vanderbilt logo were inspired by motifs from the Vanderbilt family coat of arms. The predominant colors in the Vanderbilt coat of arms are black and gold. The initial “V” has been used frequently throughout the years as an architectural detail on campus buildings. The Vanderbilt University wordmark incorporates two typefaces, graphically linking old and new, our history and our future.

The current chair of the Faculty Senate carries the mace, an ancient sign of authority. It is displayed on the front of the podium as the symbol of the university’s authority to confer degrees. Symbolic images that decorate the gilded metal of the mace include VU monograms, embattled shields, oak leaves and acorns, irises and magnolias.

The Chancellor’s insignia of office is a silver and gilt collar that displays several emblems of the university. The parallel chains of sterling silver are surmounted by alternating Vanderbilt shields and modified Founder’s Medals, from which hangs a medallion with an impression of the seal of the university. The decagonal silver frame of the medallion symbolizes the ten schools.

Trustees of the university wear black gowns distinguished by gold piping on the velvet bars of the sleeves. The design of the academic regalia and the colors worn are significant. Undergraduates—those receiving bachelor’s degrees—wear tassels signifying the degree they have earned: golden yellow for science, pink for music, and orange for engineering. By tradition, the bachelor of arts degree tassels are black.

The distinguishing mark of the gown is the sleeve: bachelor—a long, pointed sleeve; master—an oblong sleeve open at the wrist; doctor—open, pointed sleeves lined with dark blue satin to signify the Ph.D. Vanderbilt’s custom gown for those receiving the doctor of philosophy has antique gold front and back panels and an embroidered “V” on the gown’s yoke. Vanderbilt doctoral candidates wear eight-sided velvet tams with gold tassels.

The velvet edging of the doctoral hoods signifies whether the degree is J.D., M.D., Ed.D. or Ph.D.—purple for law, green for medicine, light blue for education, and dark blue for the doctor of philosophy, which may be earned in a number of disciplines. Masters’ hoods are edged with white for arts, golden yellow for science, salmon pink for public health, scarlet for theology, light blue for education, orange for engineering, apricot for nursing, and light brown for business. All hoods are lined with silk in colors signifying the institution granting the degree. Vanderbilt hoods are lined in gold and bear a black chevron.

The Banner Bearers

Each banner, with a field in the appropriate academic color, is decorated with the Vanderbilt logo. In recognition of Peabody’s history, a Peabody Centennial Medal in a round walnut frame is mounted above the banner. Banner bearers this year are:

Zachary John Diggins for the School of Engineering

THE FOUNDER'S MEDAL RECIPIENTS

Tim Xu from Vienna, Virginia, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the College of Arts and Science and is graduating with a bachelor of arts.

A recipient of the Harold Stirling Vanderbilt Honor Scholarship, Tim came to Vanderbilt "determined to weave together [his] two compelling interests" in modern European studies and neuroscience. He conducted honors research and studied European politics, history, and literature at Vanderbilt and in France, culminating in his honors thesis examining nineteenth-century European politics and its relation to French psychiatric commitment laws. He served as editor-in-chief of the Journal of Young Investigators and the interdisciplinary Vanderbilt Undergraduate Research Journal. Among his many honors, Tim was a Barry M. Goldwater Scholar in 2011 and was inducted into Phi Beta Kappa in his junior year. He plans a career in academic medicine, hoping, in his words, "to unlock the mysteries of neurobiology and culture and unite two traditionally divergent views in psychiatry."

Caroline Marie Hart from Saint Peters, Missouri, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the Blair School of Music. She is graduating with a bachelor of music in violin performance.

One of the truly outstanding performers to attend the Blair School, Caroline was awarded the David Rabin Prize, the Jean Keller Heard Prize, the Margaret Branscomb Prize, and the Ada Bell Stapleton/Blanche Henry Weaver Scholarship. She was concertmaster of the Vanderbilt Orchestra and soloist with the Tchaikovsky Concerto, as well as substitute violinist with the Nashville Symphony. Caroline presented four solo recitals and, as a member of the Ars Nova Quartet, performed in New York and Europe. Winner of the Music Teacher's National Association State Young Artist Competition, she was also selected to attend an exchange program at the Royal Academy of Music in London. Caroline played in master classes offered by the Concertmasters of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Symphonies, as well as members of the Emerson, Juilliard, and Takacs Quartets. She studied the synthesis of thin polymer films, including those for superhydrophobic applications. Last summer, she attended an international scientific conference on nanotechnology in Portland, Oregon, and heard about current research initiatives from around the world. That experience inspired her to pursue a career in research. She has served as co-president of engineering honor society Tau Beta Pi, vice president of the student chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, secretary of Sigma Phi Lambda, and a volunteer at a local elementary school. This fall, Kathryn will attend the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to pursue her Ph.D. in chemical engineering.
