

VANDERBILT COMMENCEMENT

MAY 13, 2022

Alma Mater

*On the city's western border, reared against the sky,
Proudly stands our Alma Mater as the years roll by.
Forward! ever be thy watchword, conquer and prevail.
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater, Vanderbilt, All Hail!*

*Cherished by thy sons and daughters, memories sweet shall throng
'Round our hearts, O Alma Mater, as we sing our song.
Forward! ever be thy watchword, conquer and prevail.
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater, Vanderbilt, All Hail!*

—ROBERT F. VAUGHAN, 1908

The medallion on the cover of this program is the official seal of Vanderbilt University, adopted by the Board of Trust on February 11, 2022.

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

The processional begins with a trumpet fanfare as the candidates for degrees march onto the field, school by school. Each group is preceded by a banner bearer and led by the dean and the Founder's Medalist for the school. The candidates enter the field from three points.

I

Entering from the northwest corner is the College of Arts and Science, marching in two columns and led by:

Dean John Geer, followed by candidates for the degree of bachelor of arts. Their banner has a white field.

II

Entering from northeast corner are the Blair School of Music, the School of Engineering, the Next Steps program, and undergraduates from Peabody College. They are led by:

Dean Lorenzo F. Candelaria, Blair School of Music, followed by candidates for the degrees of bachelor of music and bachelor of musical arts. Their banner has a pink field.

Dean Philippe M. Fauchet, School of Engineering, followed by candidates for the degrees of bachelor of engineering and bachelor of science. Their banner has an orange field.

Dean Camilla P. Benbow, Peabody College, followed by participants in the Next Steps program and candidates for the degree of bachelor of science. The Peabody banner has a light blue field.

III

Entering from the south are the Divinity School, the Owen Graduate School of Management, the Graduate School, the Law School, the School of Medicine, post-baccalaureate graduates of Peabody College, and the School of Nursing. They are led by:

Dean Emilie M. Townes, Divinity School, followed by the faculty and the candidates for the degrees of master of divinity, master of theological studies, and master of theology. Their banner has a scarlet field.

Dean M. Eric Johnson, Owen Graduate School of Management, followed by the faculty and the candidates for the degrees of master of business administration, master of accountancy, master of science in finance, master of marketing, and master of management in health care. Their banner has a light brown field.

Dean André Christie-Mizell, followed by the faculty and the candidates for the degrees of master of arts, master of science, master of fine arts, master of liberal arts and science, master of engineering, and doctor of philosophy. The banner for the doctor of philosophy has a dark blue field.

Dean Chris Guthrie, Law School, followed by the faculty and the candidates for the degrees of master of laws and doctor of jurisprudence. Their banner has a purple field.

Dean Jeffrey R. Balser, School of Medicine, followed by the faculty and the candidates for the degrees of doctor of medicine, doctor of medical physics, doctor of audiology, master of education of the deaf, master of science (speech-language pathology), master of science (applied clinical informatics), master of science in clinical investigation, master of science in medical physics, master of genetic counseling, and master of public health. Their banner has a green field.

Associate Dean Catherine Loss, Peabody College, followed by the graduate faculty and the candidates for the degrees of doctor of education, master of education, and master of public policy. Their banner has a light blue field.

Dean Pamela R. Jeffries, School of Nursing, followed by the faculty and the candidates for the degrees of doctor of nursing practice and master of science in nursing. Their banner has an apricot field.

IV

After the candidates are seated, trumpets will sound a second fanfare and the next procession will enter from the south, led by:

Vice Provost for Faculty Affairs Tracey George, followed by the emeritus professors and the faculty.

V

After the faculty have entered, a third trumpet fanfare will sound, and the final procession will enter. The order is:

Members of the Board of Trust

Officers of Administration

President of the Alumni Association Tim Warnock

Members of the Classes of 1970, 1971, and 1972

Mark Magnuson, chair of the Faculty Senate, carrying the mace

Chair of the Board of Trust Bruce R. Evans

Provost C. Cybele Raver

Chancellor Daniel Diermeier

The Symbols and Regalia

The visual symbols of Vanderbilt University communicate our rich history and our vibrant future. The oak laurels are a traditional symbol for education as well as for strength and longevity and were inspired by motifs from the Vanderbilt family coat of arms. The initial gold “V” takes center prominence, signifying what is rare and lasting, its beveled appearance simulating the permanence of stone carving. The rays of the North Star and notches around the edge evoke the nautical compass, a reminder of Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt’s background, but also a symbol of the mission of the university as a community that helps to guide lifelong potential through self-direction. Vanderbilt’s motto in the encircling banner is Crescere aude, Latin for “dare to grow.” It embodies the sentiment expressed in Vanderbilt’s alma mater, “Forward! ever be thy watchword.”

The current chair of the Faculty Senate carries the mace, an ancient sign of authority. It is displayed on the front of the podium as the symbol of the university’s authority to confer degrees. Symbolic images that decorate the gilded metal of the mace include VU monograms, embattled shields, oak leaves and acorns, irises and magnolias.

The chancellor’s insignia of office is a silver and gilt collar that displays several emblems of the university. The parallel chains of sterling silver are surmounted by alternating Vanderbilt shields and modified Founder’s Medals, from which hangs a medallion with an impression of the seal of the university. The decagonal silver frame of the medallion symbolizes the ten schools. Trustees of the university wear black gowns distinguished by gold piping on the velvet bars of the sleeves.

The design of the academic regalia and the colors worn are significant. Undergraduates—those receiving bachelor’s degrees—wear tassels signifying the degree they have earned: golden yellow for science, pink for music, and orange for engineering. By tradition, the bachelor of arts degree tassels are black.

The distinguishing mark of the gown is the sleeve: bachelor—a long, pointed sleeve; master—an oblong sleeve open at the wrist; doctor—bell-shaped sleeve with three velvet bars. Vanderbilt’s custom gown for those receiving the doctor of philosophy has antique gold front and back panels and an embroidered “V” on the gown’s yoke. Vanderbilt doctoral candidates wear eight-sided velvet tams with gold tassels.

The velvet edging of the doctoral hoods signifies whether the degree is J.D., M.D., Ed.D., D.N.P., or Ph.D.—purple for law, green for medicine, light blue for education, apricot for nursing, and dark blue for the doctor of philosophy, which may be earned in a number of disciplines. Masters’ hoods are edged with white for arts, brown for fine arts, gold for science, purple for law, salmon pink for public health, peacock blue for public policy, scarlet for theology, light blue for education, orange for engineering, apricot for nursing, and light brown for business. All hoods are lined with silk in colors signifying the institution granting the degree. Vanderbilt hoods are lined in gold and bear a black chevron.

The Banner Bearers

Each banner, with a field in the appropriate academic color, is decorated with the Vanderbilt logo. In recognition of Peabody’s history, a Peabody Centennial Medal in a round walnut frame is mounted above the banner. Banner bearers are:

Benjamin Ryan Donohoe for the College of Arts and Science
Julia Anne Reda for the Blair School of Music
Courtney Ariel Bowden for the Divinity School
Long Viet Than for the School of Engineering
Joshua Michael Passantino for the Graduate School
Kahlil Harris Epps for the Law School
Leland Dunwoodie for the School of Medicine
Nhan Le Ai Dinh for the School of Nursing
Caroline Maitland Pratt for the Owen Graduate School of Management
Sophie Thormann for Peabody College

The Faculty Marshals

Faculty members serve as marshals who manage the academic procession. The university marshal plans the procession and the seating, and instructs the faculty and student marshals. Faculty marshals are identified by gold cords draped over their left shoulders. The marshals are:

University Marshal Cynthia B. Paschal, Senior Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education, School of Engineering; Associate Professor of Biomedical Engineering; Associate Professor of Radiology and Radiological Sciences

Ghina Absi, Assistant Professor of the Practice of Civil and Environmental Engineering

Rachel Apple, Assistant Professor of Internal Medicine and Pediatrics

David A. Berezov, Professor of the Practice of Engineering Management

Emelyne Bingham, Senior Lecturer, Blair School of Music

THE Nichols- Chancellor's MEDAL

The Nichols-Chancellor's Medal is one of the university's highest honors and is awarded to individuals who define the 21st century and exemplify the best qualities of the human spirit. It was established by Vanderbilt Law School graduate Edward C. Nichols, Jr., and his wife, Janice, in memory of Edward Carmack Nichols and Lucile Hamby Nichols. The medal is presented at Vanderbilt University Graduates Day.

The 2022 Nichols-Chancellor's Medal is presented to Reid Hoffman, an accomplished entrepreneur, executive, investor, and philanthropist who has been integral in building many of today's leading consumer technology businesses. In 2003 he co-founded LinkedIn, now the world's largest professional network. He was executive vice president and founding board member at PayPal and is a partner at venture capital firm Greylock. He is the co-author of four bestselling books and hosts an original podcast series.

As a philanthropist, Hoffman strives to build and strengthen networks and platforms that broaden access to opportunity. He is the founding donor and a longtime board member at Opportunity@Work, which seeks to open broader pathways to higher-paying jobs and careers for skilled Americans without bachelor's degrees. In 2020, Greylock created an ongoing partnership and investment in Management Leadership for Tomorrow to increase involvement of Black, Latinx, and Indigenous people in tech startups. Hoffman serves on the boards of several nonprofits, including Kiva, whose mission is to expand financial access to help underserved communities thrive, and Endeavor, which builds entrepreneurial ecosystems in emerging and underserved markets around the world.

Hoffman earned a master's degree in philosophy from Oxford University, where he was a Marshall Scholar, and a bachelor's degree with distinction in symbolic systems from Stanford University.

IN MEMORIAM

Jorge Alberto Bahena

1990-2021

MEDALS, PRIZES, AND OTHER AWARDS

FOR THE ACADEMIC SESSION 2021–2022

FOUNDER’S MEDALS FOR FIRST HONORS

Cornelius Vanderbilt’s gifts to the university included endowment of this award, given since 1877, for first honors in each graduating class.

The College of Arts & Science

Samantha Nicole Bianco..... Wauconda, Ill.

The Blair School of Music

Somerset Kea Peede..... Greenwood, Miss.

The School of Engineering

Shubham Gulati..... Edmond, Okla.

Peabody College

Jong Eun Jung..... Fairfax, Va.

The Divinity School

Adrian Faye White..... Dallas, Texas

The Owen Graduate School of Management

Keith Douglas Jones..... Dayton, Ohio

The Law School

Bryan Joseph Teresi..... San Diego, Calif.

The Graduate School

Srivatsav Kunnawalkam Elayavalli..... Chennai, India

The School of Nursing

Tip Rose Tilton..... San Francisco, Calif.

The School of Medicine

Sarah Hildegard Brown..... Millington, N.J.

THE FOUNDER'S MEDAL RECIPIENTS

Samantha Nicole Bianco, from Wauconda, Illinois, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the College of Arts and Science. She is graduating with a bachelor of arts.

Samantha's curiosity, her creativity in finding answers to her questions, and her passion for combating misinformation led her to choose communication of science and technology and computer science as her majors. The first student to complete an Immersion Vanderbilt project, she worked with Professor Keivan Stassun's team in the Department of Physics and Astronomy using data from NASA's Transiting Exoplanet Survey Satellite to conduct a blind search for planets in other solar systems. In April 2021, an article she co-authored on this research was published in the peer-reviewed monthly Astronomical Journal. With Professor Douglas Fisher, Samantha analyzed temperature fluctuations around the world, examining patterns in climate data and formulating new ways to communicate these trends. She has produced podcasts, videos, and virtual reality projects, edited for the online student-run STEM newspaper Vanderbilt Vanguard, and tutored through Next Steps at Vanderbilt and Vanderbilt Student Volunteers for Science. She has also worked as a grader for the Department of Computer Science and as a data science outreach intern at the NASA Glenn Research Center. After graduation, Samantha will begin working as a software engineer in the Washington, D.C., metropolitan area while pursuing a master's degree in data science.

Somerset Kea Peede, from Greenwood, Mississippi, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the Blair School of Music. She is graduating with a bachelor of music.

While pursuing a major in viola performance and a minor in musicology/ethnomusicology, Somerset co-founded and served as president of Nightingales in the Wings, a student organization that provides music to senior living facilities and hospitals within the Nashville medical community. She was also a founding member of the Timbr(e) Ensemble, a contemporary percussion and string collective, and a volunteer instructor at the W.O. Smith Music School. During her time at Blair, Somerset additionally worked as a student assistant to the Department of Musicology and Ethnomusicology as well as the Department of Chamber Music. In 2021, she received the Theodore Presser Award, which is given annually by the Presser Foundation and the Blair School to an undergraduate with high levels of academic and musical accomplishment who also exhibits the qualities of leadership and citizenship. She is the third generation of her family to attend Vanderbilt, but is the first woman and music major. Somerset is especially grateful to Professors Kathryn Plummer, Daniel Reinker, Robert Fry, and We Jung Yi for their mentorship. Next fall, she will attend the Guildhall School of Music and Drama in London to study orchestral artistry through a partnership program with the London Symphony Orchestra.

Shubham Gulati, from Edmond, Oklahoma, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the School of Engineering. He is graduating with a bachelor of engineering and a master of science.

Shubham has spent four years in Professor Craig Duvall's Advanced Therapeutics Laboratory conducting research that focused on designing and optimizing novel drug delivery platforms primarily for osteoarthritis. He quickly realized biomedical engineering would allow him to help patients in diverse ways, so he chose to pursue the accelerated four-year dual degree program in the Department of Biomedical Engineering. He also has been active with numerous service organizations and was co-founder and co-president of oVRcome, a student group that provides virtual reality experiences to patients receiving infusion treatments at the Vanderbilt-Ingram Cancer Center. Through this volunteer experience, he came to understand how simple things, like providing a diversion during a tiring medical treatment, can improve the patient experience. Shubham also has a passion for cultural education having emigrated from India with his family as a three-month-old. He has been very involved in the South Asian Cultural Exchange during his time on campus. He will attend New York's Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai in the fall.

Jong Eun Jung, from Fairfax, Virginia, is this year's Founder's Medalist for Peabody College. She is graduating with a bachelor of science.

Jong's parents, who were first-generation college graduates, instilled in her an appreciation for education that inspired her to pursue the education policy track in human and organizational development as her major. She has combined this with minors in quantitative methods and data science, resulting in many opportunities, from being a research assistant at the Tennessee Education Research Alliance to having a summer fellowship with the Vanderbilt Data Science Institute and working as a Buchanan Fellow with the Jean and Alexander Heard Libraries. Jong was executive director of the Vanderbilt Undergraduate Research Journal, served as the Peabody Bridges chair to establish a diversity and inclusion branch of the Peabody Council for undergraduate students, and was president of Vanderbilt UNICEF. As a Peabody Scholar, she co-led a team to develop a summer book and movie pilot program for the Nashville Public Library that was expanded across the state through the Tennessee State Libraries and Archives. Following graduation, Jong will be an education statistics research assistant at the American Institutes for Research and work toward her dream of helping children from all backgrounds access high-quality education.

Adrian Faye White, from Dallas, Texas, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the Divinity School. They are graduating with a master of divinity.

Adrian earned a bachelor of arts from the University of Texas at Austin. At Vanderbilt, they were active in the Presbyterian student organization Company of New Pastors and served as the community co-chair for the VDS Student Government Association. In Nashville, Adrian served as the seminary resident at Woodland Presbyterian Church and organized as a member of the local chapter of Southerners on New Ground. They received honors for their project "A Transgender Theology of the Sacraments: Returning the Body to the Font, the Table, and the World" in completion of a concentration in pastoral and prophetic congregational leadership. Adrian took joy in bringing classmates together, whether through creating collaborative study guides or coordinating the VDS spring gala. They are proud to be part of this community of prophets and scholars which has cared for each other through many ups and downs. Adrian hopes to be ordained to ministry in the Presbyterian Church (USA), to continue writing, and to work for LGBTQIA+ thriving in the church and beyond.

Keith Douglas Jones, from Dayton, Ohio, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the Owen Graduate School of Management. He is graduating with a master of business administration.

Now a double 'Dore, Keith earned his bachelor of arts in economics in 2012 and was the first generation of his family to complete an undergraduate degree. He discovered a passion for finance while at Owen for which he credits the dedication and accessibility of the finance faculty, leading him to concentrations in finance and operations. Keith was a Dean's Scholar and an E. Bronson Ingram Scholar, a Recruiting and Admissions Fellow, a Career Management Center peer coach, and a teaching assistant for courses in managerial finance, operations management, strategic management, and process management. As vice president of learning and development for the Owen Strategy and Consulting Club, he had the opportunity to run mock case interviews with first-year MBA students, helping them prepare for consulting interviews. He describes this as a tremendously rewarding experience, not only to see their progress but to learn from them as well. He will be joining the Atlanta office of Boston Consulting Group.

Bryan Joseph Teresi, from San Diego, California, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the Law School. He is graduating with a doctor of jurisprudence.

Bryan earned his bachelor's degree in interdisciplinary humanities from the University of San Diego. During the summers, he interned with public defender offices in Middle Tennessee and Maryland. He also worked with the Office of the Post-Conviction Defender and the Vanderbilt Criminal Practice Clinic helping indigent clients. He received Scholastic Excellence Awards (highest grade) in Contracts, Torts, Civil Procedure, Legal Writing, Constitutional Law, Criminal Procedure: Adjudication, and Actual Innocence, as well as the Lightfoot, Franklin & White Best Brief Award. However, he is most proud of receiving the award for best Zoom background in Legal Writing from Professor Roger Alsup and the award for presentation with the most puns in Professor Terry Maroney's Actual Innocence class. Bryan is graduating first in his law school class.

Srivatsav Kunnawalkam Elayavalli, from Chennai, India, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the Graduate School. He is graduating with a doctor of philosophy in mathematics.

Sri earned a bachelor of arts in pure mathematics at the University of California, Berkeley. In only four years, and without prior research experience before coming to Vanderbilt, Sri completed eight quality research projects—six currently submitted and two already published in high-ranking mathematics journals—gave twenty invited talks to research seminars and ten invited talks to conferences and workshops. Sri has become a regular fixture at conferences in operator algebras and has quickly established himself as an expert in the field. His research looks at intersections between von Neumann algebras, which give a mathematical foundation to quantum mechanics, and related areas of mathematics. Sri was inspired by S. Balachander, a master of the veena, a South Indian stringed instrument. He worked over the last four years to rediscover Balachander's technique, considered by experts as nearly impossible to re-create. This intense experience greatly impacted Sri's mathematical work. Next year, Sri will begin a prestigious Simons Postdoctoral Fellowship at the Institute for Pure and Applied Mathematics at the University of California, Los Angeles, followed by a three-year Stefan E. Warschawski Postdoctoral Fellowship at the University of California, San Diego.

Tip Rose Tilton, from San Francisco, California, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the School of Nursing. She is graduating with a master of science in nursing.

Tip earned a bachelor's degree in nursing from Columbia University and a bachelor of science in exercise science from the University of California, Davis. She maintained a 4.0 cumulative GPA at Vanderbilt while working more than forty hours a week as an RN quality improvement coordinator for John Muir Medical Center and parenting her two children. As part of her nursing informatics major, she created an informatics-based interactive training module that is now used at John Muir. She attributes her success to the work ethic instilled by her parents, who emigrated from Thailand, and especially to her grandfather, who imparted to her the spirit of giving back to one's country and community. A veteran of the U.S. Army, she earned the rank of captain in the Medical Service Corps of the California Army National Guard and was company executive officer for the 297th Area Support Medical Company. Tip is a clinical nurse informaticist at the Center for Digital Health Innovation at University of California, San Francisco.

Sarah Hildegard Brown, from Millington, New Jersey, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the School of Medicine. She is graduating with a doctor of medicine.

A graduate of the University of California, Los Angeles, Sarah was known at Vanderbilt for the way she balanced service, leadership, research, and academics. It was, perhaps, her combination of knowledge, communication skills, and empathy in patient care that most impressed her faculty mentors. Her supervising faculty repeatedly noted her ability to have "real impact on the care of her patients." As vaccine outreach coordinator and executive co-director of the student-run Shade Tree Clinic, she worked with the underserved and underinsured in Nashville. Sarah managed the clinic during the pandemic, worked with the School of Medicine's Social Mission Committee as the homelessness service stream director, volunteered to give COVID-19 vaccines, delivered food through Second Harvest Food Bank, and worked with the Vanderbilt Letters Project to discuss end-of-life goals and advanced health care directives. Sarah will begin a residency in the internal medicine primary care program at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston following graduation.
